C00236	M2 Project Organisation	Establishing community consultation	Community consultation is the first critical step in implementing the Arini Method. It involves actively listening to parents, elders, teachers, youth, and other local voices to understand their needs, values, and hopes, and integrating these into how the program is introduced and run. There is concern about whether each EcoSociety is truly prepared to create space for authentic dialogue, and whether the outcomes of that consultation will genuinely shape delivery.	Ensure the local community is involved in the design of the pilot What Could Go Wrong? Without consultation, the program may face resistance or low engagement	Phase 1 includes consultation, but strategies vary across locations	Create a consultation toolkit and standard guidance for pilot leads
